

ONE-YEAR SUSPENSION. In the Matter of Dan C. Pelletier, No. 607, 2013. Effective Date: January 30, 2014.

On January 30, 2014, the Delaware Supreme Court ordered Dan C. Pelletier, Esquire, a licensed New Jersey attorney, be suspended from any practice of law in Delaware for one-year and be prohibited from acting pro hac vice on any matter for one year. The Court found Pelletier, who has never been licensed to practice in Delaware, had engaged in the unauthorized practice of law by establishing a systematic and continuous legal presence in Delaware in violation of Rule 5.5(b)(1) and by holding out to the public that he was authorized to practice law in Delaware in violation of Rule 5.5(b)(2).

Pelletier had established Riddlefield, LLC, located at 2412 Riddle Avenue, Wilmington, Delaware as a general legal practice. Under the Riddlefield entity Pelletier represented four Delaware residents in four separate legal matters in Delaware. Also Pelletier's resume, engagement letters and advertising indicated Pelletier intended to provide legal representation in Delaware through Riddlefield.
